

GREEN GROUP

The first thing we did when we arrived at Isola Bella was undressing in order to jump into the sea. After that we all jumped into the sea. Lots of people cut their feet in the sea's sharp rocks. There was also a radio in the bar, so many of the Italians decided to sing along with the songs. Many people that returned to Catania were tired after such a nice day. Alex had the best moment on the return to Catania when he was on the balcony and he looked at her smile and from her eyes he saw her heart.
