

Report on the first day of Erasmus activities

On the first day of the Erasmus project, the activities took place in a calm and participatory atmosphere. As an initial and welcoming moment, an icebreaker activity was planned. The Bingo Game activity was conceived by us as a chess activity. This choice proved effective in encouraging interaction between participants, stimulating concentration and dialogue between peers.

All the children, both with and without disabilities, were actively involved and participated with enthusiasm, contributing to the success of the initiative. The entire activity took place in an inclusive environment, accompanied by a musical background that made the atmosphere even more welcoming and relaxed.

The activities were carried out under the careful supervision of Prof. Giovanni Nasello, who ensured the correct execution of the activities and supported the participants throughout the duration of the meeting.

In conclusion, the day represented a good start for the project, laying solid foundations for the work and relationships that will develop in the following days.
